Pre-Employment Medicals

Seldomly, new employees may have certain pre-existing medical conditions, having a medical assessment on such prospective employee helps in identifying their overall health related issues in advance. Thus helps the employer as well as the employee to take necessary precautionary measures to prevent any health hazards. Most common health issues which remain undetected until screening are high BP, Diabetes, Asthma, Musculoskeletal problems etc.

It has been noticed that around 5% to 10% of newly joining employees are having some sort of medical condition. By performing a Pre-employment health assessment /Check Up helps the employer in taking precautionary measures to limit any unforeseen incident while working to a greater extend.

Hence Pre-Employment screening becomes a very important tool in preventing such life-threatening incidents during work, especially while handling heavy equipment and machinery.

This service can take the form of either:

Pre employment base line testing and health screening questionnaire are used to asses the condition of the employee and at the same time can give an idea about a pre existing medical condition which may affect the work.

Pre-employment health screening approaches will result in a fit-to-work report with base-line results (where appropriate). For those employees with pre-existing conditions the report will detail any issues Management should be aware of and make suggestions on making reasonable adjustments and on how to avoid aggravating the employee's health. Management can then move forward in the employment process with confidence in respect of the employee's health.

So if you wish to protect the health of your employees then a great way for them to start their career with you is to begin with confidence that you have done every thing possible to protect their health.

Convenient On-site Audiometry Lung Function/Spirometry Tests

At NNMC Occupational Health offers onsite audiometry testing and spirometry.

As with, NNMC other Health Surveillance services, our hearing tests and lung function tests are very convenient, simple to engage and cause minimal disruption with each hearing test taking a very short period of time

As we conduct each audiometric and spirometry test we will explain the results to the employee then at the end of the day the Occupational Health Nurse will give a quick debrief to the Manager and later NNMC will issue a summarized Management report for your records.

We retain all test results confidentially. Having the previous tests records also allows us to make comparisons on subsequent visits to detect any early signs of any abnormal deterioration in hearing capacity and Lung Function therefore help tackle any issues before they become a more serious problem.

Sickness Absence Management

- ◆ NNMC can help you reduce the disruption, loss of productivity and general management time wasted dealing with sickness absence issues. We can help to facilitate the much faster return-to-work of your employees after a spell of sickness absence than otherwise would be the case if things were left to run their own course. A sickness absence referral can lead in many directions such as: Advice to employees on what they should be asking their own GP. Identification of real cause of the sickness absence so the route cause can be tackled (stress at work, a bad DSE set-up, manual handling issues, etc.)
- ◆ Suggest onward private consultation to other health professionals such as a physiotherapist or counselor.
- ◆ Identify what reasonable adjustments can be made at work to allow the person to return in some capacity.
- ◆ Co-coordinating the employee rehabilitation programme.
